Counterfeiter Enters Plea Of Guilty

CLEVELAND MAN HELD IN JAIL

Admits Turning Out Bank Notes in $5,000 Lots

LINKED WITH HUGE GANG

Prisoner Confesses Furnishing Money to Ring

CLEVELAND—(United Press.)—Operations of the international counterfeiting ring, believed unearthed here with the arrest of a man who is said to have admitted turning out spurious bank notes in $5,000 lots, came to a definite halt today.

Alexis Tereshko, 29, expert photographer, who admitted to secret service agents that he had supplied bad money to a gang operating on an international scale, pleaded guilty to a charge of counterfeiting and was held in default of $50,000 bail.

In Pittsburgh, where a large part of the bogus money was put into circulation, five men are held on charges of passing counterfeit notes.

LETTERS FOUND

Letters addressed to Prague, Bremen and several Russian cities and which contained samples of the handwork of the Cleveland "artist," were found in the possession of the Pittsburgh men.

The "money" was distributed principally in Effingham, Ill., Detroit, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

According to Tereshko's alleged confession, he reproduced bank notes for the gang on a percentage basis, receiving $40 in real money for every $100 he produced in counterfeit.

PAYROLL RAISED TWO MILLIONS

Wage Increase of Country During May is Shown

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Preliminary employment and wage figures announced today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for 6,075 establishments in 47 manufacturing industries showed an increase in May compared with the preceding month of 0.3 per cent in the number of employees, 4.1 per cent in the total amount of wages paid and 3.8 per cent in the average weekly earnings. The number of employees increased from 2,242,100 to 2,249,425 and the average weekly payroll from $57,847,000 to $60,219,000.

The general increase in wages in May was 50 per cent greater than in April. In the 1,279 establishments reporting increases in May as against 700 in April, the industries most largely represented were foundry and machine products, iron and steel, woolen and cotton goods, brick and lumber. The average increase was 10.4 per cent, affecting 75 per cent of the total number of employees.

The cigar and cigarette industry was the only one of thirteen industries for which figures were available which showed decreased employment and payroll totals in May as compared with the same month last year.

SLAYER IS HANGED

Pays Penalty for Murder of Chicago Woman, Girl

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Casper Pastoni, 44, first of eight men awaiting execution here, today was hanged in the Cook county jail for the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Witchell, who refused his affections, and her 11-year-old daughter.

Pastoni was hanged at 7:11 a. m. and was pronounced dead 14 minutes later. Blind in one eye and almost deaf from a self-inflicted wound at the time of the double murder, he walked calmly to the scaffold.

"I forgive all those who have persecuted me, and I hope God will forgive me," Pastoni said as the noose was adjusted.

CITY, STATE LAWS CLASH

Delphos Candidates to File New Declarations

Petitions circulated by members of the executive committee of the Committee of 200, will be declared null and void by the election board if filed prior to 50 days before the primary, A. J. Morris, clerk of the board declared Friday.

Morris and Judge Kent Hughes, chairman of the committee, held a conference Friday, at which Morris cited provisions of the charter governing the manner in which petitions shall be circulated and filed. It was pointed out by Morris, that the charter reads as follows: "Such petitions shall not be signed by any elector more than 50 days prior to the day of primary election, and the petition shall be filed not less than 30 days previous to such election."

INVALID, CLAIMED

Morris is of the opinion that the petitions already circulated in behalf of Harry L. Breckenridge and Colonel John Harley, are not legal and the signatures are invalid.

The election board may rule that signers will have to affix their names to new petitions circulated after June 25, it is stated.

The Committee of 200 may attempt to file the petitions Friday despite the attitude of the election board, it is declared.

Failure of Delphos city candidates to send the necessary one and one-fourth per cent fee with their petitions caused the papers filed by both democrats and Republicans to be sent back Thursday.

LEAD PENCIL USED

Some of the names were signed with a lead pencil, instead of ink, according to election board officers, and others were not properly sworn to before a notary, they said.

The petitions will be refiled Friday, it was learned.

Petitions announcing the candidacy of F. R. Allemaier, Democrat, first ward, and Ed C. Stogeman, Democrat, second ward, for assessors in Delphos were filed Friday.

J. V. Smiley, Republican, announced that he will file for assessor from the fifth ward, Lima, sometime Friday.

CONVICTED MEN ARE GIVEN TIME TO ADJUST AFFAIRS BEFORE GOING TO PRISON

Workhouse sentences imposed in the cases of six Minister liquor law violators by Federal Judge Killits, have been stayed for 10 days, to allow the guilty men to arrange business and family affairs, it was learned Friday.

Three others who were fined by the court have been returned to their homes, after paying the fines and costs.

Frank Bernhold, who drew the maximum fine and sentence meted out, of $200 and eight months in jail, operated two stills, prohibition officers testified. One made 20 gallons a run and the other 100.

The five sentenced to jail are Bernhold, Robert Laut, Ben Tammer, Charles Busse, Elmer Pansman and Andrew Schaeff.

COURT ASKED TO INTERPRET WILL

Direct Beneficiary of Lucy Hooper is Not Found

MISSING FROM LIMA 25 YEARS

Believed That James Mayberry Hooper is Dead

Hearing in an action filed in common pleas court to interpret the will of the late Lucy Hooper, Lima school teacher, will be assigned early in July. Clarence H. Klinger, attorney, who is seeking to find James Hooper, missing heir, believes.

Property valued at approximately $22,000 awaits distribution.

He will ask Judge Fred C. Becker to give the case an early hearing when the court calendar is next called.

"I believe that James Mayberry Hooper is dead," Klinger declared Friday. "Exhaustive search made thru the west has failed to locate him, or find any trace of him."

"The property should be distributed, because other heirs may die or move to a distance, adding to the expense and difficulty of administration."

IDENTITY DENIED

Klinger declared he is satisfied that James M. Hooper, vegetable vander, of Wichita Falls, Texas, is not the missing man. Hooper denied the identity, and disclosed other information which supported his contention.

The will of Miss Hooper specifies that in the event of the death of her brother and niece, Mae Catherine Stevens, of Hartford City, Ind., their shares shall be divided among cousins of the deceased.

Linda VanScoyoc, Joseph Bancroft and Mrs. Ella Jones, all residents of Pennsylvania, are cousins. They have not filed an answer by counsel. May 26 was the last date for filing an answer in the case.

James Hooper, the missing heir, has not been in Lima for nearly 25 years.

REFUSES TO OUST NILES MAYOR

Donahy Demands Curb on Vice Conditions, However

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press.) — Persons who filed petitions and affidavits alleging laxity in the enforcement of liquor and other laws in the city of Niles and sought the removal of Mayor Charles Crow by Governor Donahy, should have filed them with the mayor and co-operated with him in enforcing the laws, the chief executive declared in a letter sent to Crow today.

Crow, however, was admonished that he must also make efforts to curb vice conditions.

The mayor was called before the governor yesterday to answer the charges which had been made by Niles citizens but no statement on what transpired was made from the executive office until today.

While indicating that he agreed to some extent with the mayor in his contention that politics was behind the complaints, Governor Donahy said he was of the opinion that the chief of police "could show greater zeal in the enforcement of the laws" and that the mayor should "give him specific instructions and if he does not show more zeal, he should be removed."

The governor's letter also contained a warning that the mayor should do his part in enforcing the law.

"I don't think they have been co-operating with you," the governor said, referring to those who had filed the charges, "but when it is conclusively shown that they are doing so and that you are not co-operating with citizens who desire an honest enforcement of the law, I will take action prompt and certain."

DENIES CARRYING ILLICIT BOOZE

Farmer Arrested After Breaking Jug; Claims 'Twas Vinegar

Thomas Craig, 42, farmer residing seven and one-half miles east of the city on the Marion rd., pleaded not guilty in criminal court Friday morning to a charge of transporting illicit liquor. His trial was set for Wednesday afternoon.

Craig was arrested Thursday night at the corner of Elm and Jackson-ets, by city and county officers.

Police say that when Craig saw them coming toward him as he was sitting in his automobile, he swung a burlap sack containing a jug against a tree and broke the container. Liquor which Craig says was vinegar soaked into the bag and was squeezed into a bowl by Sheriff Crosson. Officers planned to use this as evidence in the case.

Craig told arresting officers there were two more barrels of the vinegar in the basement of his home. After he was registered at headquarters police searched his home and found the two barrels of vinegar as he said.

Lima police are holding his automobile.

A further search of his farm Friday by Deputy Sheriff Smith and Officer Dick Watkins failed to disclose more liquor or a still.

DIES WITH SMILE

Kentucky Man Pays Death Penalty for Murder

EDDYVILLE, Ky. — (United Press) — James Powers, 23, Covington, paid the penalty for the murder of Morris Lee, 24, manager of the Strand Theater in Covington, with a smile on his face. He was electrocuted at 12:28 a. m. today.

He smiled as he entered the death chamber. The same boyish smile was preserved as the electrodes were fastened on and as the death mask was about to be placed on his face.

"Give 'em all my love, Mr. Murphy," were his last words.

They were addressed to his attorney, J. T. Murphy, Covington.

Powers died protesting his innocence.

OFFICIALS DERIDE DAMAGE CLAIM

City Water Does Not Kill Grass, They Assert

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE, DECLARED

Set Aside Fears of Custodian of Memorial Hall

City Manager C. A. Bingham Friday laughed at fears expressed by Robert Christa, custodian at Memorial hall, that water from city mains is killing grass on the lawn there. Bingham expressed surprise when informed that Christa had stated the grass was dying since the use of city water began this spring.

Christa told a Lima News representative that at first he was at a loss to know what had affected the grass, but that after talking to others who claimed to be having similar experiences with lawns, he decided it was due to the city water. DENIED BY HEALTHY

Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, scouted the statement. "I am sure there is nothing in the water to injure the grass," he declared. "Chlorine is not present in sufficient quantities to do any damage," he added.

E. E. Smith, superintendent of filtration at the waterworks plant, was surprised when he learned of the claim that city water is killing grass. "There's nothing to it," Smith. "Only 12 pounds of chlorine to every 5,000,000 gallons of water is used, or one part chlorine to 3,000,000 parts water. This is not sufficient to harm anything or anybody."

WHAT TESTS SHOW

Smith explained that before the filtration plant was built, the city was using three to four times as much chlorine as now, and that no complaint had ever been made concerning deleterious effect on grass or people. If cannot be detected in drinking the water, he added, and he assures that the amount of chlorine used from day to day never varies, tests show.

J. R. Cuthbert, chemist, derided the belief that city water is ruining grass anywhere. "It's impossible," he said, "as the amount of chemical used could not kill grass. If it did, it would also affect consumers."

Gasoline Explosion Fires Building at Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — Four persons narrowly escaped being trapped in a blaze on the west side early today, when a gasoline explosion blew out a stairway leading from their second story apartments as it fired the building.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Miller, their son Edward and Robert Simmons, occupants of an adjoining suite, rushed thru smoke-filled halls, reaching the street by a seldom used stairway on the opposite side of the building. All were in their night clothing.

The explosion was in a dry cleaning shop on the street floor. Practically every window in the building was broken by the blast, the cause of which is unknown.

A millinery store next door to the dry cleaning shop was wrecked by the explosion.

NINE SEEK G. O. P. NOMINATION

Fight in Minnesota Senatorial Race Becomes Heated

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (Associated Press) — Word that the national administration thru the Republican senatorial committee would take a hand in the July 16 election in Minnesota when the late Senator Knute Nelson's successor will be chosen, was received with considerable interest in political circles in the state today.

Reports that Senator George H. Moses of the senatorial committee is taking a hand in the campaign prior to the June 18 primaries in the interests of Governor J. A. O. P. Bates were denied by friends of the governor who is one of the nine candidates seeking the Republican nomination.

According to these reports letters were sent by Senator Moses urging Minnesotans to rally to the support of Governor Bates. In this connection it was pointed out in some circles that the governor is a close personal friend of President Harding. On the other hand however, Washington advices indicated that active assistance from the senatorial committee and the administration would not begin until after the primary with full Republican support thrown to the candidate nominated, Governor Bates.

Gov. Bates, former justice of the state supreme court is declared by many newspapers thru-out the state to be the governor's chief contender for the Republican honor. J. A. O. P. Bates, former governor; Ernest Lundeen, former congressman and Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, all Republicans, have been other hard working candidates.

FORMER PREMIER IS KILLED

Head of Ousted Government Slain in Trying to Escape

BERLIN — (United Press) — While trainloads of wounded jammed the railway lines leading into Sofia today, King Boris and Premier Zankof held airplanes in readiness to flee if the situation becomes less favorable to the revolutionaries, according to special correspondents at Belgrade.

Heavy fighting is proceeding in the hills of northeastern Bulgaria, with many casualties on the side of the new government troops, according to these reports, which say the government now has 70,000 soldiers at its command.

EX-PREMIER KILLED

SOPIA — (Associated Press) — Former Premier Stamboulsky of Bulgaria has been killed while trying to escape.

The end of the peasant leader's career follows a series of dramatic developments beginning with the overthrow of his government in the early hours of last Saturday and the formation of a coalition government, including all the opposition parties with the exception of the Communists.

As soon as Stamboulsky became aware of the successful coup d'etat he fled toward the mountains of Central Bulgaria, shaving off his mustache and disguising himself as an army chauffeur. He was deserted by most of his followers, only four being with him when he arrived at Pirdot. The pursuing troops of the new government overtook the party at Pirdot, but Stamboulsky escaped into the forest during the fighting in which his four followers were overcome.

He could not long elude the large forces seeking him, however, and he was captured yesterday at Molavi, a village near Slavovotza.

BATTLE IN PROGRESS

VIENNA — (United Press) — Seventy thousand peasants loyal to ex-Premier Stamboulsky, now are engaging Zankof troops in northern Bulgaria, according to Sofia dispatches. The latter are greatly outnumbered.

LONDON — (United Press) — Ex-Premier Stamboulsky still is free and in flight an Exchange Telegraph message, direct from Sofia and dated Thursday, states.

The newspapers in the Bulgarian capital now under the Zankof regime publish details of an alleged plot by Stamboulsky to force King Boris to abdicate, and for the former peasant premier himself to be crowned king on September 12.

ATHENS — (United Press) — An unconfirmed report from Sofia that ex-Premier Stamboulsky had been captured and taken under strong guard to the Bulgar capital, was received with reserve here today. It is pointed out that the Zankof ministry has issued such reports for three successive days.

PREMIER WRITES ON SITUATION

(BY PROFESSOR H. ZANKOF)
(Acting Premier and Foreign Minister of Bulgaria.)

SOPIA — (By wireless to United Press, via Paris) — Our army has easily suppressed the feeble, isolated resistance of ex-Premier Stamboulsky's partisans.

The country everywhere is calm.

Communication by railway, telephone and telegraph has been established. The army now is being used only to maintain order and to parry attempts of Stamboulsky's followers.

The new government enjoys the confidence of the country. There is no connection between the so-called Macedonia movement and that which resulted in the fall of Stamboulsky.

The change of government was the result of discontent and oppression. The new government's foreign policy is peaceful.

We will maintain the best of relations with our neighboring countries and especially with the great powers. Bulgaria will continue to fulfill her international obligations, particularly the treaty of Neurilly, and will avoid disturbing the peace of the Balkans.

(Copyright, 1923)

In view of conflicting reports regarding conditions in Bulgaria, the United Press wirelessly Professor Zankof, head of the new revolutionary government, asking for a statement regarding the exact state of affairs. The above message was sent from Sofia by wireless.

RAILS REGARDED ON TRIAL

Wise Course is Reduction in Rates, Forbes Says

GROWTH IN PROFITS NOTED

Comment Follows Increase in Dividends by Road

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — It has often been said that the country cannot prosper if the railroads are sick.

Well, the railroads are now doing quite well, thank you. Announcement of an increase in the New York Central dividend from 5 per cent to 7 per cent a year draws attention to this fact.

What are the railroads going to do with their new prosperity? Will they take advantage of their increased profits merely to declare more generous dividends? Or will they keep the shipper quite as prominently in mind as the stockholder? If our railroad managers are wise, they will do everything within their power to lower rates, particularly on agricultural products.

One danger disturbing the minds of responsible financial leaders is that of anti-railroad agitation as soon as Congress meets next December. This danger certainly will be intensified if between now and then many railroads swell their dividend disbursements. It is true that railroad stockholders have not been able to indulge in riotous living off their dividends for quite a few years. Dividend payments have not increased half so fast or far as the cost of living. It is natural, therefore, that every effort should be made to do better by holders of transportation stocks.

Nevertheless, is it farsighted to launch an era of dividend increases at this time? Would it not be more prudent to devote chief attention to bringing down such rates as have aroused the bitterest objection, particularly among our agricultural people, who have had to bear more than an average share of adversity for quite some time?

Just before the New York Central dividend news was issued, I was talking with a hotel manager and one of his plaints was that railroad fares had been marked up so much that the hotel business has been seriously affected. For example, he said that when railroad fares were low, a large number of Philadelphia used to run over to New York to spend the week-end, but that this business had been cut to next to nothing. He also declared that many business firms and companies had greatly reduced the number of men sent on the road to sell goods, the stiffer railroad fares having prompted such a course.

Every thoughtful citizen recognizes that our railroads are now on trial, so to speak, and that if they don't conduct themselves as to earn a reasonable measure of public approval government ownership will be brought to the front more vigorously than ever before and perhaps adopted. Since the great majority of railroad managers are opposed to having government officials as their bosses, these railroad managers ought to shape their course with a view to reducing to a minimum cause for inciting government ownership agitation. This object certainly will not be attained if more attention is given to raising dividends than to lowering rates.

The latest earnings statements show that the railroads, as a whole, are now earning at least the "fair return" specified in the Transportation Act. The wise handling of these larger earnings should materially help to insure the continuance of active general business in this country. Lower railroad rates would prove most welcome and helpful. So would the continuance of extensive purchases of equipment etc., by railroads. Higher dividends would help financial sentiment, but that would be about all.

Those who are disposed to take a bearish view of the business outlook should make note of the action by the New York Central directors and should also take into consideration the likelihood of a great many more dividend increases by various classes of corporations. Profits during the first half of this year have been much more satisfactory than for quite some time previously, so that more generous dividend disbursements can be expected. This will tend to cheer the stock market. And the sentiment displayed by the stock market has not a little influence upon sentiment throughout the length and breadth of the land.

This would seem to be a poor time to embark upon a bearish pessimistic course of action. (Copyright, 1923.)

LASKER ANSWERS CRITICS OF LEVIATHAN TRIAL TRIP

WASHINGTON — Replying to criticisms of the forthcoming trial trip, of the Leviathan, Chairman Lasker of the shipping board declared in a formal statement last night that provision for the trial had been included in the reconditioning plans drawn up under a Democratic administration and that it was an indispensable part of the plans.

Characterizing the attacks as "party politics" Lasker called upon the Democratic national committee, whose headquarters here recently issued a statement criticizing the projected five day cruise of the liner to Cuban waters as a waste of public funds, to "forget for the moment its temptation to misrepresent for political purposes."

Plans and specifications for the reconditioning of the liner, Lasker said, were prepared by experts engaged by the shipping board when John Barton Payne was chairman. In January of last year, he said, the experts asked for an appropriation of $120,000 to cover the cost of the trial trip contemplating that it should extend at least five days, and the item was approved by congress.

FARGO TEST CITY FOR HEALTH

Experts Specializing on Health of Children

FIVE SERVICES ARE GIVEN

Purpose to Prove Child Health Program Economic

FARGO, N. D. (Special)—Fargo is being made a test city by which, it is hoped, the health of infants and children will be benefited. Here the first of three five-year programs has been started, composed of a child health clinic and welfare demonstration conducted by the National Child Health Association, of which Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is president.

The city was selected from among 23 of the upper Mississippi valley on promise of co-operation by its physicians and social organizations. Dr. William J. French, formerly in charge of part of the American Red Cross work abroad during the war and later director of the child welfare commission of Delaware, is director of this demonstration. He has working with him six nurses, each supervising the welfare of two schools and in charge of the district including the schools.

FIVE SERVICES
As Dr. French outlines it, the demonstration touches five fields of service:

- 1—Home nursing, reaching every home and furnishing prenatal and postnatal service free where private nurses cannot be hired.
- 2—School nursing under the supervision of a children's specialist.
- 3—Consultation service at the Fargo Red Cross clinic, where parents may bring children for free medical examination and advice.
- 4—Free medical attention by Fargo physicians where treatment is needed and payment is difficult.
- 5—Full-time health officer to be employed by the city.

PLAY SUPERVISED
Besides, there will be playground supervision and a school for teachers, to show their charges how to play and get most benefit from their play. For this, the demonstration plans to take over supervision of all public playgrounds in the city.

The fundamental idea of the demonstration, Dr. French explains, is to prove that an adequate child health program can be available at a not prohibitive cost. Fargo, he says, has been spending 70 cents for the maintenance of each child's health annually. The new program will cost slightly more, but will provide a more efficient service, he adds.

A delegation of 20 Allen-co farmers is expected to attend a conference on cooperative marketing at Wooster, June 26. H. J. Ridge, county agent, stated Friday.

County agent, through the state, agricultural extension specialists and representatives of county farm bureaus will meet on that date to confer with Walton Peet, marketing director of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

It is planned to work out at the conference, a long time policy in commodity marketing for the state, Ridge said. He and C. F. Metz, of the Live Stock Association, hope to take with them a delegation of at least 20 Allen-co farmers.

FOR $1 DOWN $1 THEN A WEEK

NO INTEREST OR TAXES FOR TWO YEARS

Don't miss this great opportunity to buy a large lot (50x156) on high, level ground, close to a new paved highway and within reasonable distance of all large industries. Lima is growing in this section and values are increasing. Our prices are low and the terms are the best you will ever get on such fine homesites. You owe it to yourself and to your family to take advantage of this remarkable offer and at least come out to see the lots before they are all gone. Every lot will be sold by Sunday night, weather permitting. Bring your dollar and come at once to our new addition to Lima on St. John's Road, called

We sell only on the addition, all day and evening and all day Sunday. Contracts delivered from our office on the addition and payments then made at a Lima bank. Come tonight. Come Sunday.

Lots On St. John's Are Higher

DON'T FAIL TO READ EVERY WORD

REAL ESTATE IS SAFEST INVESTMENT—Every lot is certain to increase in value while you are paying for it. Never again can we offer you such a well located lot on these terms. You have the use and enjoyment of ownership, the pride in your home and its welfare, the pleasure of planting and gardening or building—all for $1.00 a week. You can build or sell any time.

MEN, WOMEN, BOYS AND GIRLS—If you are earning money and have any serious purpose in life; if you are ambitious and want to be somebody, don't miss this chance to save a big level house lot where any man or woman would be proud to live. Our lots are restricted to white people and most attractive homes.

DON'T WASTE YOUR MONEY—or fritter away your earnings or pay rent all your life when one dollar a week will bring you so much self-respect, satisfaction and happiness. Nothing will give you more of a recommendation and character. The really happy man or woman is one who owns a home and garden. Buying land on small payments compels saving and makes one thrifty. You can sell your lot any time and you pay no interest for two years. You get ten percent discount or bonus on advanced payments of $10 or over.

SEE OUR SELF-SERVE LOT SALE—Every lot is marked with white corner posts and in front is a tag with number and price. Look the lots over and when satisfied you take off the white tag and give your money to our salesman and get your contract at our office on the ground. It is all done in a few minutes and afterwards you make your payments at a local bank.

YOU ARE GUARANTEED A SQUARE DEAL—For N. P. Dodge & Co., was founded in 1856. The name has been a guaranty of financial and moral integrity for over seventy years. We have more additions in more cities than any organization in the world. We refer to any Commercial Agency or over ninety banks collecting for us. We have sold over thirty thousand lots and we challenge anyone to find one buyer who has been unfairly treated. You will find our price list and map distributed to your home, the same price and terms to everyone. The terms and value you get is the secret of our success.

INVEST YOUR SAVINGS AT HOME—Don't buy real estate or stocks located hundreds of miles away. They are rarely wise investments and you have no enjoyment of them from day to day. Buy a lot that increases in value every time a baby is born in the city or a family moves to your city. You can cultivate it, sell it, or build on it as soon as you pay your dollar down. You will then have a "stake" in your town and have a greater interest in it. There is no greater real abiding pleasure than in the ownership of real estate. The saving gives you self respect and character. Where our judgment backed by years of experience convinces us we can safely invest thousands of dollars, certainly you can invest two hundred at only one dollar a week.

HOW TO REACH ST. JOHN'S PARK—If you have an auto, just drive down Pine Street to St. Johns Ave. and then south to our big sign at the turn a few blocks south of Fourth St. Or drive out Fourth St. to St. Johns Ave. They have been paying St. Johns Ave. to Pine Street and is now open. Take Pine St. car if you have no auto and you will find our auto waiting for you on Fourth Street to take you and your family and friends to and from the addition free of charge all day and evening until after dark. Don't fail to come today.

WORLD COURT IS IN SESSION

New International Tribunal Convened at The Hague

IMPORTANT CASES ARE UP

Germany Is Not Member But She Has Judge

THE HAGUE, (United Press)—The League of Nations new permanent court of International Justice which President Harding proposes should be convened today for its third regular session.

Three cases were on the docket, of considerable international importance, and all tending to establish the wide scope of work which will be coming under the jurisdiction of the new court.

The court convened today with a full panel of judges present except the late Judge Rufus Barlow of Ohio whose place will be filled by a member of all the states adhering to the court during the September assembly of the League of Nations. The panel as at present constituted consists of Judge James Bassey, Korea, America; Judge Altamirano, Spain; Judge Anzilotti, Italy; Judge Bustamante, Cuba; Judge Drummond, Finland; Judge England, Sweden; Judge Loder, Switzerland; Judge Loder, England; Judge Noholm, Denmark; Judge Oda, Japan, and Judge Weiss, France.

They represent not only all of the leading countries of the world but all of the leading races and all of the principal legal systems of the world.

THE KIEL CANAL CASE
The most important case which the court has on the docket for the first session is that relative to the refusal of Germany to permit the English ship Wimbledon to pass through the Kiel canal, a right established by the Versailles treaty. The case is vitally interesting.

BANISH NERVOUSNESS

Wendell's Pills, Ambition Brand, For Run-Down, Tired Out People

If you feel tired out, out of sorts, nervous mentally or physically, get a 50 cent box of Wendell's Pills, Ambition Brand, at any drug store today and take a big step toward feeling better.

On work too hard, smoke too much, or are nervous, Wendell's Ambition Brand, will make you feel better in three days or less back from Enterprise Drug Store the first box purchased.

A treatment for afflictions of nervous system, constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, or general debility, get a box of Wendell's Pills, Ambition Brand, on the money back plan.

from the point of view that it constitutes the first time that one nation has been haled before the new tribunal by other nations. England, France, Italy and Japan, as signatories of the Versailles treaty, all joined in summoning Germany before the court for the alleged violation of the treaty.

It was in March, 1921, that Germany refused to let the Wimbledon, which was laden with war material for Poland, pass through the canal. Germany bases her refusal on the ground that a state of war still existed between Poland and Russia and that to have permitted the allied ship laden with war material for Poland to pass through the Kiel canal, would have constituted a violation of Germany's neutrality as regards the Russian-Polish conflict.

GERMANY HAS A JUDGE
Although Germany is not a member of the court, she has been given the same right as all members, namely to have a judge of her own sit in on the court's panel during hearing of the cases. Professor Walter Eucken has been designated by the German government for this purpose.

The second case on the court's docket also interests Germany, as it has to do with the German minorities in Poland.

Even more important and interesting, however, is the third case on the docket, for it involves Soviet Russia, which is likewise not a member of the court. Similarly it constitutes the first time that outside nations have endeavored to summon the Soviet Republic before the international court of justice.

The case in question involves the treatment which Soviet Russia is now meting out to the inhabitants of Eastern Carrelia.

CONVICT PAINTS TO FREEDOM

Artist-Counterfeiter Produces
Masterpiece in Jail

DEDICATED TO PRIEST

Friends Hoping Max Sasanoff
Will Get Free

ATLANTA, Ga. — (Special.) — Locked in prison, a convicted forger, Max Sasanoff paints his masterpiece.

A long time ago someone wrote: "Satan will do a prison make, nor iron bars a cage." And when Sasanoff came down to the "big gray house," he remembered those lines. Outside, he told himself, he was an artist and opera singer.

"I will not change," he swore.

Secret service men, running down counterfeiters in New York City, uncovered a hand. Among those locked up was Sasanoff. They had charged him with making the play used to print spurious currency.

He told the court he had honestly believed himself free of guilt when he started to make the plate. He added that when he did find out what he was doing, he tried to quit, but others forced him to continue under threat of death. Conviction, three years.

INSPIRED BY PRIEST In prison Sasanoff met Father Hayden, prison chaplain. The priest inspired the painter in him. Then within the prison walls, Max started to work.

For six months he painted. He was up with the sun. They had to force him to quit late at night. And now his canvas, measuring 8 by 15 feet, is nearing completion. It shows the Christ ministering to the lame, the halt and the blind. And while he works, Max sings—the way he did in opera with Caruso and the famous Chalapin. His rich, well-rounded tenor notes fill the drab place like sunshine. Sasanoff likes to sing. He likes to paint. And those who know him outside say if anything, his artistic powers have broadened and multiplied in the dank air of the place so lately throws its outcasts.

MAY GET PARDON

Now it appears Sasanoff's artistic ability may win him a pardon from the remainder of the three-year term. Friends are busy.

In trying for the pardon, they point out the many canvases he has had accepted. Probably his best known work is a painting of the World War, which now hangs in the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C.

Father Hayden, in saying how glad he was to hear that Max may get his release, told of a prisoner at Leavenworth, Kan., who painted a picture. The president of the United States, on a visit, issued a pardon immediately on seeing the work.

"And that picture," says Father Hayden, "is not as good as the one Max has painted. This is one of the finest mural decorations I ever have seen anywhere."

SINKING OF THE MAINE-JAIL

Argument Over 1898 Disaster Sends Man to Prison

JOLIET, Ill. (Special)—Remember the Maine?

Casualty, of course. But not with the vividness of the man who is perhaps the senior war prisoner in the United States.

He has remembered it daily for 25 years from behind the walls of the Illinois State Penitentiary here. Only for a while as a fugitive.

They call him "Silent Ed." He does not like to talk much. He calls too vividly that horrible day 25 years ago—before his hair turned gray.

He was black-haired Ed Smith on Feb. 16, 1898, when cables plunged the world into grief with news that the Maine had been sunk at Havana.

Life was pretty sweet then. Smith had just turned 25. There was a girl. And he rated an excellent seaman on a Great Lakes steamer with excellent chance for promotion.

"I was in a saloon that night and had had some drinks. Everyone was talking about the sinking of the Maine. Then the bartender started talking. He happened to be a German."

"It's a good thing," he said. "I'm glad they did it. They ought to blow up all those American battleships."

Well, I called him on that, and one word led to another. I guess I'd have done it anyhow even if I had-not had those drinks. But a fight started. I picked up an iron pin from under the table and hit him. He died, and they sent me here for life.

"I don't mind your having that picture now," he says. "Everybody has forgot about me by this time anyhow."

"The Maine went down a long time ago, you know."

"But I—I'll always remember" Then came quiet.

Ed Smith had dropped back into the shadows of his realm again—into the land of silence.

SOURCE OF DOPE IN AMERICA

FALLS IN PEDDLERS' HANDS

Manipulation of Smuggled Drugs Explained

(BY FRED V. WILLIAMS)
SAN FRANCISCO—(Special)—The dope trail on the Pacific coast, as in other places, has its beginning in Chicago, Philadelphia and New York.

While Canada, Mexico and the Orient become the depots of drug runners, the original source of supply is, to a great extent, in the United States. The situation is this:

There are several big firms turning out cocaine, morphine and heroin for the legitimate medical profession and for export. Their business is entirely legitimate. They have no connection with the drug rings. These drugs are shipped under bond to Canada, Mexico and elsewhere.

But—once in Canada or Mexico the American produced drugs become the stocks of drug depots; not all of it, of course, but a large portion. Back it comes to the United States to be sold at exorbitant prices.

Just what are these drugs and what they do? A brief word of introduction to this deadly family here, and more later.

DRUG DICTIONARY

Heroin—the starter; the "dsh" for beginners. From many standpoints most dangerous of all. Leads to loss of memory, deadens the mind to a sense of right and wrong. Panic-stricken over the change, the victim rushes to the other drugs, generally to morphine. Hundreds of crimes are committed by those whose sense of right has been deadened by heroin. They don't stay on heroin long. It's just a step on the ladder.

Morphine—the sedative. Most popular of all the poisonous family, and most insidious. Eases of pain, panacea for the nerve-wracked, the inducer of sleep—the drug that has enmeshed many a doctor, nurse and patient.

BRINGS SLEEP
Not infrequently it is a beginner's drug—particularly where persons have suffered pain, sleeplessness or nervous disorder. But to the "hop-head" the listlessness it brings becomes annoying. "Cocaine, then, is the next step.

Cocaine—the real "hop." Favorite of the underworld and major crooks. It quickens the senses, fires the brain and ravishes the body. But the addict learns through experience that it can give too much "fire."

The cocaine user may go racing over hill and dale; it's hard to keep him down. So he cunningly concocts mixtures with morphine.

Opium—the "society" drug. Here

FASHION'S BEST, 60 YEARS AGO

A bidder at a San Francisco auction bought a trunk for $17 without knowledge of its contents. It contained, he later found, dresses of the finest materials, trimmed in the richest hand laces, imported from Paris in the late '60's. Miss Virginia Gury, society girl, is trying them on. H. M. Melzer, an antique dealer, values the wardrobe at $20,000.

is the game of the connoisseur. It's no game for an amateur—this, hence opium dens where skilled hands cook the "pill" and serve it for the victim. Least deadly of all the drugs, perhaps is opium. But, like the others, it winds into the paths of the deadly trail.

The fourth or fifth opium "jag" hits and holds. After that—there is no trail back.

Dope parties in a cemetery are described in Williams' next article.

COST OF EATING IS GOING UP. STATISTICS INDICATE
Retail food prices in Lima advanced approximately one per cent during the month of May, according to figures given out Friday by the Department of Labor. This was a lower per centage of increase than many cities covered by the survey, some municipalities showing an advance of six per cent.

Retail costs of food for the year ending May 15, 1923, showed an increase of five per cent. Again Lima's increase was not outstandingly high, other cities in the state sustaining an eight per cent advance during the year.

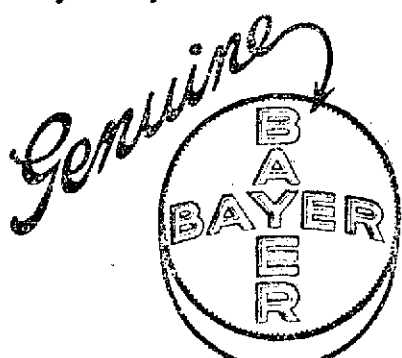

Richmond, Virginia, was the only city in the entire United States which showed a decrease in food cost. A decrease of less than one half of one per cent was noted in this city.

To buy a dollar's worth of food, figured on the basis of 1913 prices, the Lima housewife must take with her $1.42. In other words, the retail cost of food in Lima has increased 43 per cent in the last 10 years.

ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for:
Colds, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain, Pain.
Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Drugists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acidester of Salicylic Acid.—Adv.

DROWNED AT CINCINNATI
CINCINNATI—A lounge at an irritating water beetle while canoeing last night, cost the life of Myron Bolser, 19, of Newport. The sudden movement upset the canoe throwing Bolser and two companions into the Ohio river. Bolser's companions swam to shore but Bolser could not swim.

NEW CURES FOR DISEASE FOUND

Three Great Strides in Science Are Taken

CANCER ATTACKED BY X-RAY

Cells Eaten Out by High Voltage—Baby Saved

NEW YORK — (United Press)—Three great strides were taken today in the fight of science to conquer disease.

A possible explanation of the cause of cancer was advanced by Donald C. A. Butts, chemist of Philadelphia, who attributed the baffling disease to an excess of positive electrons of energy in cells of the body.

In New York a woman lay for more than 13 hours under the piercing rays of a 240,000 volt X-ray machine, which ate away cancerous cells in the abdomen. Formerly 50,000 volts was the maximum and 30 minutes was the longest period the rays were ever applied.

BABY SAVED

A baby three days old, facing certain death because it could not breathe, was saved when powerful rays whittled the thymus gland in a throat and restored normal respiration.

Butts' explanation of the disease is that an electro-chemical disturbance of particles in the cells of the body causes them to "go wild." His theory is being thoroughly investigated by the scientists who believe cause of cancer must be established definitely before any cure can be found.

The X-ray machine used upon the woman was powerful enough to send rays thru a brick wall and show bones in a human hand 200 feet away. Physicians fed liquid food to the patient during the treatment and permitted her to sleep while the powerful rays were trained on a small portion of her back.

The experiment was conducted at the Johns Hospital under the supervision of Dr. J. Seth Hirsch, who has been working on the method for more than a year. The patient, Miss Clara Linn, 27, of Spring Valley, N. Y., is reported resting comfortably.

HAFER METHOD

Physicians who watched eagerly as the experiment progressed said the

HE MAKES HOME-RUN SWATSTICKS

Joseph G. Kren in a little shop in back of his home at Syracuse, N. Y., makes the bats with which many of the home runs of the big leaguers are poked out. Among his patrons are Babe Ruth, Heinie Groh, Rogers Hornsby, Irish and Bob Meusel and Curtis Walker.

Woman showed favorable signs at all times. Her physical condition was not seriously impaired as the diseased cells burned away. Expense of radium has made that mode of treatment for cancer, inaccessible to a large number suffering from the disease. The X-ray application cost, would be comparatively small.

The three-day-old baby, Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schwartz, was apparently normal when born, but after a day she was stricken and unable to breathe. Thru artificial respiration methods she was kept alive but each time oxygen was shut down, the child lapsed.

The thymus gland, a mysterious organ functioning only in infants, did not die, as is usually the case after birth, but started growing. Thru application of the X-ray, its trend was reversed and the life of the infant saved. Physicians believe the success of the experiment proves that many so-called "blue babies" who die immediately after birth, may be saved.

FATHER'S DAY, SUNDAY

Father's Day will be observed all over the United States on June 17. Some cities are having special programs, altho no events have been arranged in honor of father in this city. The breadwinner of the family will be paid special tribute on Sunday, however, in many homes, according to reports.

DESERTED WIVES GIVEN DECREES

Two Wait in Vain for Return of Husbands—Suit Dismissed

Two Lima wives, weary of waiting for absent husbands to return and undertake their support, won freedom in common pleas court Friday. Mrs. Ethel Webb, 609 N. Union-st., testified that William Webb would not support her and that she was forced to take in washing and toil in factories to earn money for food and clothing.

Webb had a bad disposition, the plaintiff told Judge Becker, and often beat her and her children when they annoyed him. She was granted the right to use her former name, Ethel Keller. Webb's place of residence is unknown, testimony disclosed.

Custody of her three kiddies, subject to the rights of the Allen-co Children's home, was awarded Mrs. Bessie O. Murray, 1121-2 E. Market-st., who was divorced from William Murray.

Testimony in the hearing showed that they were wedded at Van Wert in 1906. Murray has been missing since 1921. Prior to his departure, the plaintiff declared he attacked her and that he was arrested and convicted in criminal court. Judge E. J. Jackson suspended the sentence on promise of good conduct.

A suit for divorce filed Mrs. Nancy King against Samuel King, was dismissed in court Friday.

MORTON TO DISCUSS HOUSE CANVASSERS AT MILWAUKEE

J. E. Morton, manager of the Board of Commerce, will leave Friday evening for Milwaukee, where he will address the national convention of retail secretaries. The convention will extend thru Saturday and Monday.

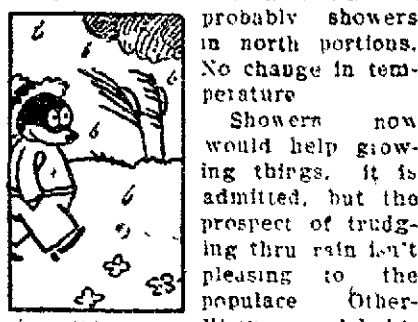

Morton will speak Saturday at 2 p. m. on the subject of eliminating house-to-house canvassers thru organized cooperation.

PICNIC PLANNED

Modern Woodmen of America and their families and friends will hold a picnic at McCullough's park, July 4. Games and races will be the main features with cents in swimming and boating also included on the program.

THUNDERSHOWERS ARE PROGRAMMED

Threats for several days of thundershowers may be realized in actuality before this day is done, if the weather forecaster is to be believed in his current prognostication. Unsettled tonight and Saturday. Local thundershowers in south and north portions.

No change in temperature. Showers now would help growing things. It is admitted, but the prospect of trudging thru rain isn't pleasing to the populace. Other picnic conditions are delightful, with nights cool and inviting.

Good weather for vacationists and picnickers. And plans are developing in that direction. Parks are open, playgrounds are being made ready and summer activities are attaining their peak.

Outdoor sports are in full swing and growing more extensive every day, it is noted. Tennis, baseball and other similar activities are developing in all parts of the city.

Ted is braced for anything that may eventuate in the way of a blow accompanying a thundershower.

Final Settlement of War-time
Accounts is Made

ROAD CLAIMS OVERBALANCED

Sum is for Additions and Betterments Made

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — An agreement to pay in to the treasury $90,000,000 has been made by the Pennsylvania system as the result of final settlement between the railroad and the government of all accounts rising out of the war-time federal control.

The Pennsylvania's payment will reimburse the government for the cost of a large number of additions and betterments made to its lines during the period of government control, which overbalanced all of the road's claims against the treasury for damages, under-maintenance and other items.

STANDARD ISSUES
"The director general of railroads has effected a final settlement with the 24 companies comprising the Pennsylvania system for financial accounting arising during the 25 months period of federal control," Director General Davis said in a statement. "After an adjustment of all accounts between the government and these railroads there is a balance due the government from them, largely on account of capital expenditures, of $90,000,000. Under the law this amount will be funded by the government, the railroad giving properly secured paper for the ultimate payment of same."

"This completes the largest adjustment which has been or will be before the railroad administration. The tonnage carried by the Pennsylvania system represents about one-tenth of the total traffic handled by class one roads of this country and the equipment, freight cars, locomotives and passenger cars represent about the same proportion of the equipment of class one roads."

With the Pennsylvania claim out of the way, the railroad administration has now settled the accounts arising from federal control of companies which own 86 per cent of the country's rail mileage.

While most of the settlements have involved payments by the government to railroads, several companies have returned money or securities evidencing indebtedness to the treasury, the accounting having determined that the government spent more money on a given line than that line lost by reason of damages or failure to earn income up to the standard.

In the case of the Pennsylvania, which operates thru the eastern munition manufacturing territory, the government spent large amounts in extending terminals, building new tracks and adding equipment. The Pennsylvania will deliver to the treasury in payment of the account cash or securities bearing six per cent interest covering the entire amount.

COMMISSIONERS FAIL TO SELL COUNTY BONDS TO STATE INDUSTRIAL BODY

Efforts of the county commissioners to dispose of a $116,000 bond issue to the state industrial commission Thursday, terminated unsuccessfully, the announced following their return from Columbus.

The bonds were issued to cover indebtedness of the county. The state body declined to purchase the securities on the ground that they are loaded up with similar issues.

Commissioners may sell the bonds on the open market, they assert, or they may wait until the industrial commission can take them.

KIWANIS HARMONIC CLUB RECEIVES INVITATION TO ENTER UTICA EISTEDDFOR

An invitation to the Kiwanis Harmonic club to participate in the 65th annual eisteddfod at Utica, New York, was received Friday by Don John, business manager of the local organization of singers.

The Utica eisteddfod is the largest sing-fest conducted in the United States. It is stated, and prizes are offered totalling in the neighborhood of $4,000. The Utica competition is conducted under the auspices of the Cymryddorion society of that city.

Competition is open to all choruses, choirs and soloists in the English States and will be held December 1, 1923 and January 1, 1924. Capital prizes of $1,000 each will be awarded to the winning male chorus, mixed chorus and university glee club. Other prizes will go to winners of 25 different musical competitive numbers.

Action on the invitation will not be taken at this time, John stated, the local club heading all its energies at present to success at the Main-st. eisteddfod, Saturday.

The local singers will leave for Mansfield Saturday morning over the Pennsylvania in two special cars. The male chorus will sing in the afternoon and the mixed chorus will enter competition at the evening session.

AUTO PLUNGES IN CUYAHOGA RIVER

Six Occupants of Car Believed
Drowned at Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — A diver was preparing to search the bottom of Cuyahoga river, at the foot of St. Clair-av., this morning in an effort to establish whether six persons went to their death in an automobile that was found in the river after a nine-hour search.

No bodies were found in the machine. Persons who saw the machine just before it plunged into the river last night said there were six persons in the car.

There was no license tag on the car when it was brought to the surface. The car was stolen last Tuesday night, police said. The owner was located thru the engine number.

J. D. Stanton, marine diver, searched the bottom of the river but found no bodies. If any one was in the car when it went to the river, the strong current would have washed the bodies far down toward the harbor entrance, Stanton said.

Police have been unable to determine whether the driver of the car lost control of it as it sped down St. Clair-av. hill and leaped to save his life, or whether thieves purposely ran the machine into the river.

In the tonnage of the car nicked black pipes, expensive valves and other plumbing supplies were found. These were not in the car when it was stolen, the owner said.

CHAUTAUQUA GUARANTORS IN DINNER MEET AT BARR

J. A. Bumstead, assistant manager of the Redpath Chautauqua association, will be the principal speaker of the annual dinner meeting of the Lima Chautauqua Association, Monday at 6:30 p. m., at the Barr hotel.

The Lima chautauqua will be held July 15 to 22 at the Baxter Home-stead school grounds on Elm-st., L. E. Ludwig, secretary of the association stated Friday.

It is probable that the program for the local chautauqua will be definitely determined at the Monday dinner, Ludwig said.

Stills, Liquor Found in Two Homes, Declared

Two W. Cline-st. homes in Delphos were raided Thursday night by state prohibition officers under E. F. McDonald, Columbus, with assistance of local officers.

George Shoemaker and Frank Koehorst were arrested and charged with furnishing the Volstead act. Shoemaker was not at home when the raiders arrived. After his return from a trip to the country, however, he was taken into custody Friday morning.

Parts of a still, a small quantity of liquor in a jug and two tubs of mash were found in a bedroom which the officers reached by crawling thru a hole in the dining room ceiling, they declared.

A ravel-like opening back of the foundation of the house was used to house Shoemaker's apartment. Officers declared they confiscated a 12-gallon still, with boiler, equipment, eight gallons of finished product and 20 gallons of mash. Another raid was unproductive.

Shoemaker and Koehorst were confined in city jail pending arraignment Friday before Mayor J. K. Williams.

RUM AGENTS FAIL TO FIND MISSING FARMER

Dennis Redmon, farmer residing two miles south of Delphos, disappeared from view as effectively as would a playing card under the skillful manipulation of a magician, when rum agents searched for him.

All trace of Redmon was lost. After searching the road at noon Thursday, the officers returned in the afternoon and saw Redmon's horse returning from the south, along the banks of the Miami & Erie canal. It is believed he took to the "tail and untail" when in a panic.

A sample was taken from two barrels of confiscated rye mash and taken to Van Wert to be used as evidence. The remainder was destroyed.

INDIANA PRIEST FOR DELPHOS BACCALAUREATE

Rev. Minard B. Koester, of St. Joseph's college, Bensenville, Indiana, will give the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening at St. John's Catholic church for 21 members of the 1923 graduating class of St. John's parochial school.

The class will graduate Wednesday evening, when girls will present a drama, "In Chains."

Girl graduates are Dorothy Bergert, Marie Hartlieb, Mildred Bickmeier, Esther Paul, Ruth Detmer, Anna Schmidt, Mildred Stalkamp, Gertrude Shaffer, Leona Weisberger, Gladys Plummer, Alvina O'Neil, Adella Schmeider, Irma Laemmerman, Mary Berry, Lucille Ryan.

Boys of the class are Arthur Imber, Francis Stuppich, Leo Metzner, Hubert Michels, Ralph Hiett and Hilary Sheibley.

STATE STRUCTURE WILL BE REBUILT AT DELPHOS

Preparations are being made for a building program on state property in Delphos, including renovation of the state building, occupied by W. J. Alexander, district foreman on the Miami and Erie canal.

The structure, located along the canal south of Third-st. will be raised. One side of the roof will be lowered and the entire building raised.

It is also proposed to erect a garage for highway trucks on the site, but no steps in this direction have so far been taken. State engineers are expected in Delphos soon to make a survey of the property.

ISSUE CHALLENGE
A challenge has been issued by the Delphos All Stars baseball club to any club in the neighborhood for a game Sunday at Delphos. Call Leo Hummer, Main-1229, Delphos. Application must be made by Saturday.

STOLEN BOAT RECOVERED
AFTER LAPSE OF MONTHS
A boat belonging to Thomas W. Vorhees, 305 McPherson-av., stolen from McCullough's lake last fall, was recovered by police Thursday night.

It was in the possession of Louis Middleberger, who bought it from R. W. Liepper. He declared Liepper explained he purchased the craft from two men who left it at his home for several months last winter.

AUTOS IN COLLISION

Slight damage resulted late Thursday when an automobile driven by John Hill, 224 N. Celest, on W. North-st., ran into an automobile going north on Thurst-st. The latter car was driven by a man named Doe, Hill reported to police.

HEAVY COAL SHIPMENTS

Manufacturers in this section are realizing the need of early coal buying, district officials say. Coal shipments over Lima roads are very heavy and compose most of the freight.

DELPHOS SOCIETY

Reminiscences of various classes featured the program of the annual alumni reception Thursday evening at St. John's auditorium. Society members welcomed 21 graduates into the St. John's Alumni association.

The class members were given by Florence Welch, class of '10; Beatrice Edwards, '18; Sylvester Schneider, '21; George King, '20. The welcome address was given by Herbert Wolfhorst. Mildred Stalkamp delivered the response. Rev. Frederick Rupert gave the address of the evening. Rev. A. J. Bishop also spoke. Helen Stalkamp played a piano solo. Ruth Scherger presented a dialogue.

Festivities were opened with a grand march, to the accompaniment of the Mrs. Rosa Part orchestra. Herbert Ricker acted as master of ceremonies and a toast was also given by Laddona Ricker.

Decorations of the tables and the reception room and dance hall was carried out in the school colors, blue and gold. After the banquet the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The banquet menu consisted of fruit cocktail, olives, radishes, smothered chicken, giblet gravy, potatoes, peas, fruit salad, rolls, butter, cake, cranberry minis, coffee and cigars.

Miss Anna W. Hill, W. Third-st., opened her home to the Foreign Mission Society of the Methodist church, Friday afternoon.

Regular meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. John's church will take place Sunday afternoon. A social will take place in the auditorium after the business meeting. A delightful time is being planned by the committee.

Miss Helen Stalkamp of St. Mary's College, Monroe, Mich., is spending the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stalkamp, E. Fifth-st.

DELPHOS OFFICIALS WILL BORROW $5,000 TO MEET IMPROVEMENT ESTIMATES

Arrangements have been completed by Auditor W. H. Shaffer and Mayor J. K. Williams for borrowing $5,000 from local banks to meet estimates on the improvement of S. Main, S. Pierce and Cleveland-av., at Delphos.

Last estimate made by the contract is $12,000. It is only necessary to borrow $5,000, officials state, because the city is able to pay the city portion of the cost of the improvement was used to meet the first and was left to take care of the greater part of the second.

The city's portion of the $102,000 improvement is over $20,000. After the project is completed and when the 20-day period during which property owners may meet their assessments in cash has expired, bonds of the city hall will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the assessments, it is planned.

SPECIFICATIONS READY FOR PAVING AT DELPHOS

Specifications have been completed for the paving of the intersection of Main and Cline-sts., Delphos, a total of 1,500 square feet, which will be awarded to The Johnson company, Napoleon, as a supplemental contract to the work on S. Main, S. Pierce and Cleveland-av., Service. Director Spellman announced Friday.

The excavating work on S. Main-st., beginning at the weather and is now open more than one-third completed, according to Spellman.

HUNTERS THREE STORES

GIRL ARRESTED IN MURDER PROBE

Wife of Chicago Victim Fails to Identify Her, However

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Mrs. Richard C. Tesmer collapsed today when police brought an underworld woman before her for identification as the girl bandit who shot Tesmer, her husband, to death recently during a robbery.

Mrs. Tesmer, nervous at the strain of examining a score of girls with "blue eyes and a smile," declared the latest suspect looked "almost" like her husband's murderer.

She refused to identify positively the suspect, however.

"I can't say for sure," she declared. She then became hysterical and is confined to her bed.

An hour previously, Mrs. Tesmer had exonerated a man arrested in a raid on a North Shore apartment. This girl was released.

Mrs. Tesmer, who has been confined to her room since the shooting save for a brief time at the funeral, told authorities she is haunted "day and night" by the smile and blue eyes of the slayer.

Tesmer was shot without warning by the girl bandit who giggled as she pulled the trigger. He was attempting to console Mrs. Tesmer who protested at giving up her wedding ring as demanded by the slayer-cross and her male companion.

MRS. BECKER FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Becker, 70, of 915 S. Central-av., who died Thursday at City hospital from infirmities of age, will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at the Sitter funeral home. Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will officiate. Interment in Columbus Grove cemetery.

WILL CLOSE UP ESTATE ON VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Charles C. Siford has been appointed administrator of the estate of William F. Brennan, late of 959 S. Main-st., by Probate Judge J. H. Hamilton.

Bond was fixed in the sum of $600. Anna Brennan, Baltimore, a sister, will inherit the property of the decedent valued at $300. Al C. Traill, Paul Fitzgerald and Roy O. Bowersock were appointed appraisers by the court.

Brennan died soon after falling down a stairway at the Maxwell hotel. His skull was fractured.

HARDING TO SEE WONDERLAND

President Will View Great Developments in Alaska

GREAT WIRELESS SERVICE

Untold Wealth to be Found in Country

WASHINGTON, (United Press)—Even if he gets no farther than the Alaska of the tourist when he visits this summer, President Harding will see a wonderland. But if he gets into the country he will find still more wonders and see the undeveloped wealth of an empire for with its 590,000 square miles, the territory is one-third larger than the Atlantic states from Maine to Florida.

Yet ninety per cent of the towns and mining camps can be reached rapidly from any part of the world by telegraph and telephone. The United States Navy operates radio stations at Cordova, Dutch Harbor, Saint George, Saint Paul Island and Sitka. The Signal Corps now operates more than 4,000 miles of wireless, land lines and cable.

Perhaps the president will see the coast range north of Cross Sound, which has twelve peaks that exceed 10,000 feet while Saint Elias reaches 18,024 and Logan 19,540 above the sea. Then there are the glaciers, the last of the ice age. Some of them have faces three miles across and 200 feet high. The greatest ice mass is the Malaspina glacier on the southern side of Saint Elias. This has an area of 1,200 square miles.

Nome is not any nearer Sitka than Boston is to Tampa. This gives you an idea of the territorial empire the head of the nation will visit. It was 56 years ago in May that the United States paid Russia $7,200,000 for the territory. Uncle Sam occupied the territory in the following October.

UNTOLD WEALTH

In the untold wealth of the country, gold, copper, fisheries, and many other things figure. Perhaps the most important of all natural resources, says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, is the forest wealth. Their importance in connection with the future economic position of the United States cannot be over estimated. Neither can their bearing on the newspaper production be over estimated.

There are two great national forests in Alaska. They cover 20,579,740 acres or about 5 1-2 per cent of the total area of Alaska. The larger of these woodlands, the Tongass National Forest, is estimated to contain 70,000,000,000 board feet of timber ripe for marketing. Stands of 100,000 board feet per acre are not infrequent.

This is the Alaskan forest that will some day be shipping large amounts of timber to the States. It has over 2,000 miles of shore line and ninety per cent of the usable timber is within two miles of tide water. This makes it easy to log the timber and float the lumber directly from the forests to the steamers. This forest is 1,500 miles closer to the mainland markets than is the other Alaskan National Forest.

The other big timberland is the Chugach national forest. It is a smaller edition of the Tongass Forest. Its trees are not so large and the stand of timber only about one-half as heavy as in the Tongass. Experts estimate that it contains 7,000,000,000 board feet of lumber. Western hemlock predominates. There is also much spruce, poplar and birch. Stands of 40,000 to 50,000 feet of lumber an acre are not unusual.

The lumber of the Chugach National Forest will play an important part in the industrial life of Alaska. Even now, it is used by the fishing, mining, railroad and agricultural interests.

SOURCE OF PRINT PAPER

Alaska will probably develop into one of the principal paper sources of the United States. Pack points out. National forests in Alaska contain approximately 100,000,000 cords of timber suitable for paper manufacture. Experts report that these forests could produce 2,000,000 cords of pulpwood annually for centuries without depletion. About 6,000,000 tons of pulpwood annually are required to keep us supplied with enough paper. The Tongass National Forest could easily supply one-third of this amount indefinitely. This forest also is rich in water power.

If a pulp and paper industry is built up in Alaska, it will be of great benefit to that northern country. It will increase the population by creating a demand for more labor. It will aid the farming operations by making a home market for their products. It will improve transportation and develop all kinds of business.

Discovery of gold in 1898 served to direct the attention of the public anew to Alaska. Much history has been made since Peter the Great drew up a program for exploring Alaska just a few days before his death. It was not until 1741 that Bering got into the country as the representative of the Czar. The czars have gone but Alaska still remains, perhaps the greatest asset Uncle Sam possesses.

MILITARISTS IN JAPAN JEERED

Japanese Students Hiss Officials of Army Off Stage

UPSETS ALL TRADITIONS

Next Generation Will See Democracy, is Belief

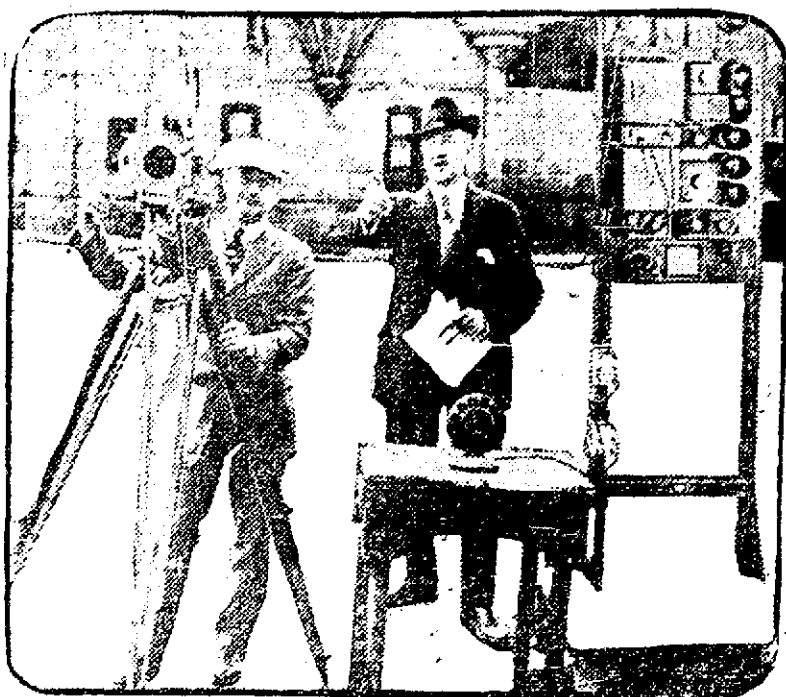

TOKYO—(United Press)—Japanese militarists got an awful jolt the other day.

Some of the highest officers of the army were hissed, "hoed" and jeered off the stage by students of one of the great universities, when the army-men tried to lecture to them on the virtues of military training.

Militarism has been getting a good many black eyes in Japan during the last few years. But even so, the militarists still run things (altho their days seem doomed); and, despite all the protests that have been made against militarism, the militarists never thought they would be literally hoed out of a great university by the very pick and flower of Japanese youth—from whom the army of the next generation must come—or there will be no army to speak of.

The event is most significant of the temper of "young Japan" and of its determination not to be bossed blindly by militarism. Carried to its logical conclusion, this student-spirit of Japan today may mean accepting fundamental changes in government and policies in this country—changes that will not be made today or tomorrow or next week or

DIRECTING MOVIES BY RADIO

Movie directors give thanks to radio for its help in directing some of their big scenes. Instead of shouting himself hoarse, the director speaks as he would to anyone nearby, while a radio microphone in front picks up his voice and bellows it out thru radio amplifiers to the throng of actors in the field. Above, Wallace Worsley, Hollywood director, is shown in front of a radio amplifier broadcasting directions for a big scene.

DEMOCRACY FOR JAPAN

Some students are bold enough to say what many more think, but dare not speak—for Japanese police are ever alert to jail those who think "dangerous thoughts"—that another generation will see a democracy in Japan. But they mean by that, a democracy in spirit within an empire in fact—however incongruous that may sound. The wildest student in Tokyo would not for a moment even breathe a suggestion of overthrow of the Emperor. The Emperor is more than ruler; he parades of divinity. Every Japanese child is taught, that from his cradle, and he believes it devoutly. But "young Japan," while reverently loyal to the Imperial tradition, is paving the way for an overthrow—which may be some years in coming—of the "invisible government" of the militarists and the aristocratic clique. "Young Japan" is getting ready to have a vote that means something and a parliament that has power, and is not merely a mock debating society, impotent of real legislative attributes.

It was at Waseda University in Tokyo that high army officers, as well as university officials who supported the officers, were hoed from the stage and driven from the hall by the Japanese students. The army men wanted to establish a system of military instruction at the university. The students greeted them with cries of, "Murderers! Butchers!"

Vice-minister of War Gen. Shirakawa attempted to read an address from the war minister. "Blood drips from the decorations on his breast," shouted a student. "Thousands die to raise one hero to fame!" called another. The jeers then became tumultuous. The vice-minister of war had to retreat. Several full generals, commanders of imperial guards and full admirals of the naval general staff were also hoed down. The Waseda liberals made a real day of it.

This, for Japan, was completely revolutionary. It upset all traditions of unquestioning respect and obedience to military authority. Here were the highest army officers meeting not only refusal to obey, but with gross and studied insults and open defiance. The nation gasped—and the police got to work.

The cops are combing the colleges now, looking for "thinkers of dangerous thoughts." Both students and faculty members who "think dangerously" are to be fired, the police have announced. If that were all there is to it this wouldn't be much of a story. For police have always been all-powerful in Japan, and always they have been obeyed respectfully.

But today the Japanese students who hoed the militarists are laughing at the cops—laughing at 'em!—when the cops ask whether they're "thinking dangerous thoughts."

That's how far "Young Japan" has gone.

TOURING CAR STOLEN

A large dark blue touring car, valued at $4,000, was stolen Thursday night from in front of the Quila theatre, according to a report made at police headquarters by the owner, Mack Altschul of the Barr Hotel. The license number on the car was 360-636.

STOLEN INDIANA CAR IS LOCATED IN THIS CITY

An automobile owned by Vern Heche, Bluffton, Ind., stolen from that place about six weeks ago, was turned over to Sheriff Noah Fraubiger, of Wells-co, Indiana, by Lima police late Thursday.

The automobile was checked up by Detectives Ward Taylor and Tom Lawler following its recovery here recently. Motor and factory numbers had been changed, but investigation showed other numerals on the car identical with those on the stolen car.

An arrest in Fort Wayne or Bluffton in connection with the car theft will probably follow the return of the sheriff to Indiana Friday, he stated.

William Umbaugh, 650 Dewey-av, had the car when officers here investigated. It was purchased from the Ohio Used Car Co., which secured it from a man in Fort Wayne, according to Z. Bedford the manager, in a statement to police.

COMMUNITY DYING ON SMALL ISLE

Scotch Inhabitants of St. Kilda Slowly Perishing

INTERMARRIAGE IS BLAMED

Few Consist of Clans Shouting Across Hillside

LONDON — (United Press) — Imagine a community of men and women in which no birth, death or marriage has occurred for almost a year.

Imagine that same community so steeped in religious fervor that the Sabbath worship takes on marathonic proportions.

Conceive, if possible, a race of sturdy Scotchmen so bereft of courage that they settle their rows by shouting hoarse words across the mountain side, and then work off their physical anger by cruelty to their own sheep dogs!

Such conditions exist on the island of St. Kilda, forty miles off North Britain in the Hebrides.

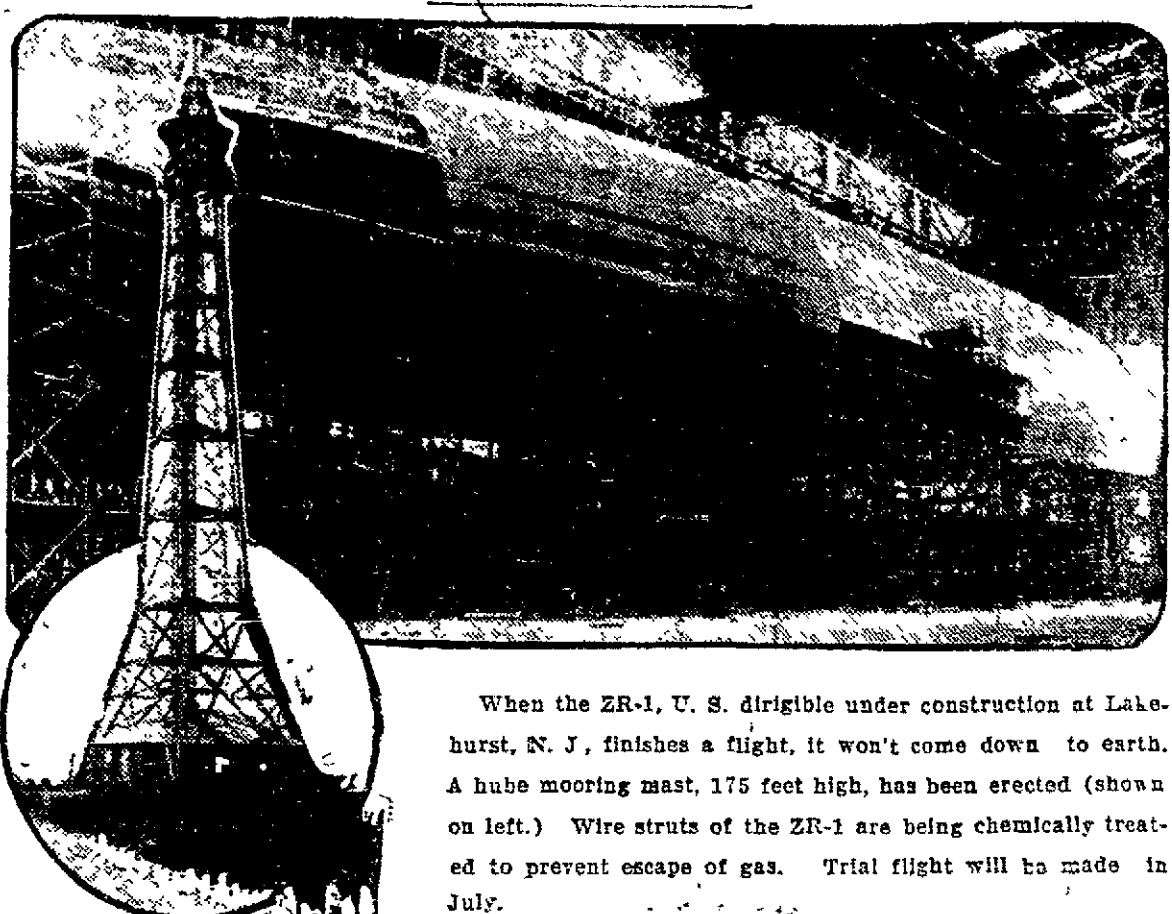

The Scotch inhabitants of the island are slowly degenerating under inter-marriage. Minus tradition, ceremony and any sane form of government, the 72 inhabitants worry about a miserable existence on the headlands of their island.

St. Kilda consists of just under 10 square miles of jutting grass-land, of which but 40 acres is arable. A considerable portion of the remainder is pasture.

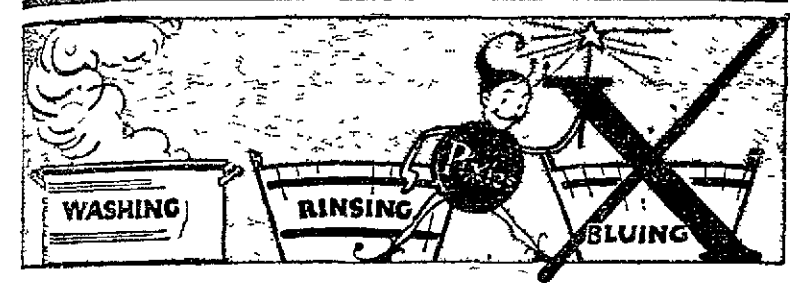

REFUSE TO LEAVE ISLAND.

Attempts have been made to emigrate St. Kildians from their forbidding home. The elders of the colony are content to eke out life

STATION IN THE CLOUDS FOR U. S. DIRIGIBLE

When the ZR-1, U. S. dirigible under construction at Lakehurst, N. J., finishes a flight, it won't come down to earth. A huge mooring mast, 175 feet high, has been erected (shown on left.) Wire struts of the ZR-1 are being chemically treated to prevent escape of gas. Trial flight will be made in July.

Pixies blue clothes in the washing water

THIS is how this new bluing works—

First, you boil up your soap with a Pixie tablet in a saucepan, making a blue liquid soap.

Second, pour this liquid blue soap into your wash-boiler (or wash tub or washing machine) and mix to an even blue color.

Third, put in the clothes and boil or wash in blue soap-suds and rinse as usual—

And then you will find your clothes exquisitely white and ready for the clothes line. No separate bluing job to bother with! The little Pixie has done your bluing for you during the washing!

Pixies are the first bluing that would work with hot water and soap, permitting the washing and bluing jobs to be combined in this way.

They blue the clothes during the washing

HOLD BLOODLESS FEUDS

A feud can be got under way instantly. St. Kildian feuds are picturesque. They have the advantage of being bloodless. Feuds are the principal diversions on days other than Sundays.

The principals of a feud gather their supporters together. The opposing groups meet on a hillside and glower and shout at each other. The side which drowns the vituperations of the other is the honored winner. Exhaustion or a superior supply of Gaelic invectives usually turn the tide.

Destructive tempests and famines have robbed St. Kildians of hope in the future. In-breeding has shown them of moral courage, ambition and stamina. Their miserable homes are two-roomed cottages, built to exclude elemental terrors rather than any human menace. St. Kildian house walls are as thick as they are high—and the average height is five feet.

Earthen roofs are weighted with boulders as large as the primitive methods of the islanders allow them to hold.

Even with this protection, fear-some winds sweep these dreary homes. From the North Pole and the North-eastern extremity of Canada sweep gales. Swoosh—the wind onguis St. Kilda on its thousand feet of jutting stone—and the houses are without tops.

VISITED BY PLAGUES

Between 1856 and 1886 the “eight days’ sickness,” a form of infantile lockjaw, caused the deaths of 52 children.

A greater calamity occurred in 1724, when the population of St. Kilda was reduced to four adults and 26 children by an epidemic of small-pox.

St. Kilda is the personal property of MacLeod of MacLeod (eq), the romantically named chief of an ancient Scottish clan.

MacLeod of MacLeod had a scheme to emigrate the islanders to a sheltered bay on a larger island. The offer has been spurned.

St. Kilda will remain as it is until intermarriage, human poverty and sickness wipe out the population.

OPEN LETTERS

To Kiwanis and Junior Red Cross

FRIENDS: Your plans for the establishment of a fresh air camp for 50 undernourished children of my city during the summer months, opening July 2, is one of the most commendable moves that has been brought to my attention.

I want to approve it heartily and bespeak quick and satisfactory response in a campaign to secure necessary funds. I am reminded of the Biblical injunction, "For inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, My children, ye have done it unto Me."

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Elks

DEAR FRIENDS: Again I am commending you for your activity in arranging an appropriate observance of Flag Day in my city, Sunday.

The program you have outlined will not only pay tribute to Old Glory, but will also provide pleasure for thousands of my people. In view of the fact that your order is built on patriotism and love of the Flag, from which flow charity and good will to all, I know that your efforts will bring response in participation from all parts of my city.

LIMA BEANE

To Candidates

DEAR ASPIRANTS: Time of filing declarations of intention for at least part of the positions open under our system of government having expired, I trust that the forthcoming campaign will be devoid of bitterness.

If there is any one thing more than another that is displeasing to the general public, it is the use of personalities in the campaign by one candidate against another.

So please avoid that sort of thing. And may the best men—or women—win.

LIMA BEANE

To Delphos Park Boosters

FRIENDS: Permit me to offer congratulations on the thoro manner in which you are going about the work of providing a park for the people of my neighboring city of which they may well feel proud.

Everyone of you who has made or will make a sacrifice of any sort for the benefit of park beautification and providing conveniences for the public place, will be well repaid in the satisfaction of seeing it used as one of the attractive places of your city.

I trust you will have thousands of visitors when the park is formally opened on July 4.

LIMA BEANE

To Captain F. W. Wilkinson

DEAR CAPTAIN: To you, as head of the Salvation Army in my city, I am expressing the hope and wish that your efforts to bring about the erection of a permanent citadel for the work of the Army will be abundantly realized.

I understand it is your intention to dispose of the present property holdings on S. Main-st and acquire a location and build a home elsewhere. I trust your plans will bear the desired fruit.

LIMA BEANE

To Sam Weinfeld

MY DEAR SAM: Glad to see you out again. Sorry the state of your health kept you housed for some time.

"Business as usual" in Lima doesn't seem to go just right when I fail to see you about the town, with a boutonniere in the lapel of your coat.

Here's hoping you will quickly recover your former good health.

LIMA BEANE

To Sigma Theatre Management

MY FRIENDS: Congratulations on conditions existing in your theatre which make it impossible for patrons to be endangered should a fire occur in the operating room.

Your theatre is constructed in accord with state laws in every particular, I understand. That it would be next to impossible for flames to get beyond the confines of the concrete projection room, assures safety. This was proven in an occurrence during the past week.

LIMA BEANE

To Ottawa People

FRIENDS: I almost envy you the enjoyment you are being afforded in being permitted to take part in community entertainments I have been informed are conducted one evening each week in the open air in your little city.

Three thousand people witnessed the moving pictures of an instructive and entertaining character shown Wednesday evening. That you are appreciating the efforts of those behind the community project is evident.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Harmonic Club

DEAR FRIENDS: Your plan to get Lima back onto the musical map is most commendable. The concert you gave during the past week at Memorial hall was one of the best I have ever had the pleasure of hearing.

That you will win high honors in the eisteddfod at Mansfield is my wish. Success for you means honor for my city—and yours.

LIMA BEANE

City Manager C. A. Bingham

DEAR GENERAL: Am glad that you are in a position to set at rest fears expressed that water from the city mains is responsible for killing grass on lawns.

If there should be anything in the water that would kill grass, I shudder to think of the effect it would have on thousands of people who drink it daily. And I haven't heard of anyone becoming ill from drinking aqua pura from city water lines.

LIMA BEANE

To Roy E. Layton

DEAR ROY: Congratulations on your election as department commander of Ohio, United Spanish War Veterans. Your excellent record as adjutant general of Ohio probably had something to do with your preferment at Cedar Point.

I am glad that I can claim you as a near-citizen of Lima, since you reside in Wapakoneta.

LIMA BEANE

To City Commissioners

DEAR BADS: Commendation is due you for your announced determination to see to it that awnings are placed at least six feet nine inches above sidewalks.

Some of the members of your body must have also had their hats knocked off dodging under low awnings.

LIMA BEANE

To the Alis Shop

DEAR ALIS: Delighted I am to learn that you have selected my city as your future headquarters for all the shops in the western section of this chain.

You have built up a satisfactorily business, I understand, thru the methods you employ in advertising in an unique manner.

My good wishes to you and may your chain of shops continue to grow.

foot to the post. Nothing of import, so into a money to discourse with M'seur Fishel, the eminent realtor. All the morning at this and that, mobilizing forces for impending storm. And find the arsenal in goodly supply. On the street, saw Samuel Fletcher, the Old Roman of them all, when it comes to gopism. He, soon away to New York, on pleasure bent.

Lunched, at Jake's Place. With John W. Roby and Lee Laughlin. On a roast beef sandwich, rhubarb pie and a glass of half and half. To the shack and with my flannel trousers out to the Sealt's enginery and with picture films to Lima Kodak shoppe. Discoursed with Dr. Horn the pillologist, and Dave Rosenheim, the men's draper. So, about the town, chatting with the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie. Met, too, Carl Boop, the race track lover, who betimes tells me there are great trols over in Kenton town. Where Mayor Shank of Indianapolis and a Hoosier delegation are having a wonderful vacation.

To the Tullis Academy for a trim, and shoe manicure. But saw none of import, the Dean not thereabouts. Under the Woolworth Tower, no other than Hugh Patton, the veteran police officer and delective. Who in the old days called all the yeggs and dips by their first names. Waved to Mike Pirtscher, the banker; and John Oglesber, the eminent truck man.

In the late afternoon, to the trainshed and there bade bon jour, an old college fraternity chum, now with the National City Bank, betimes. Thence by Wayne-st west waving to Ed Gordon the noble egg salesman for Swift and Page Maus the musiquer. Spoke in fyno friendliness to Mine Host Smith of the Argonne eatery, and hot white shoe polish at Crawford's. Heard a taylor for married folk about the three meaneest words a wife could tell her husband. And that so, too.

Dined with lamb for the joint, and potatoes au gratin, the salad pineapple and head lettuce, and the sweet a cottage pudding. Finished a taylor called West of the Water Spout, in which the prettiest girl in the Iowa town, married the biggest hoob. And lived scrappily ever afterward.

Checking up on the winter wears, and putting them in the attic, until came Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Goodyear and Dr. and Mrs. Alan Knisely, when we sang songs and did comick things. So, late to bed.

COUGH IF YOU MUST BUT COUGH WITH CARE

Among the queer notions I fondly cherish is one that it pays to put considerable vim and pep in an ordinary sneeze, that is when one hasn't any acute disease of the nose or throat. I harbor the fancy that when one feels a sneeze coming on one should declare a brief recess or adjourn court and put all one's heart and soul into the business of sneezing, making a good thorough job of it and plenty of noise and commotion. Of course this would not do in church. But anyway we ought to take full advantage of every sneeze, provided we do so without taking any advantage of our neighbor's rights. When there are neighbors anywhere within a radius of ten or twelve feet one should distribute masks or umbrellas before letting go the sneeze, or don a mask and do the best one can under restrictions.

Coughing is a different phenomenon. It is possible that a cough may occasionally have prophylactic value. Certainly a fair amount of coughing is rather to be encouraged in the advanced stage of many acute diseases of the lower respiratory tract, though not in the acute inflammatory stage. Here is where many misinformed people make a serious mistake; they cough with unnecessary vigor and even alacrity in the acute inflammatory stage when they should strive to avoid coughing; in the later stage of resolution they take a drug which suppresses cough when they should be taking full advantage of the privilege and benefit of coughing. That is what my cough medicine formula is for. It helps coughing. I am not going to reprint the formula. But I will be glad to give the formula to any one who asks for it by mail, with the clear understanding that the cough medicine doesn't cure anything. It neither kills nor cures.

Pulmonary tuberculosis is one disease in which coughing is best restrained, as a rule. The only helpful or useful coughing in this disease is that which doctors term "productive." A productive cough brings up sputum. This does not mean that it is advisable to try to force up sputum whenever the impulse to cough comes, before the sputum is ready to come up with little coughing. One with tuberculosis should and must practice suppressing the impulse to cough unnecessarily. Every unnecessary cough disturbs and impedes the natof great importance here. Often the doctor will give medicines to help the patient to gain control of the cough. A good doctor's judgment is indispensable, and the intelligent use of medicines to meet individual requirements is highly essential in the successful battle against tuberculosis, notwithstanding the notion of "keeping away from doctors and medicines and getting plenty of fresh air, good food and sunshine."

It is scarcely necessary to mention that one with tuberculosis must never fail to cover nose and mouth with gauze or handkerchief or a paper or cloth when coughing.

MAIN SALOON

Detailed Cross-Sectional Diagram of the Vanderbilt Yacht Showing the Compactness and Comfort of the Quarters and the Superb Dining and Bathing Facilities.

Brigadier General Cornelius Vanderbilt III.

The Three-Masted Yacht, Atlantic II, Photographed Just Before She Left for Bermuda.

FEELING bored? Want to slip away into a paradise of cool breezes, frost-rimmed glasses, high-geared luxury—plus a perfect host, only incidentally a millionaire?

Then why not step aboard the three-masted auxiliary schooner yacht Atlantic II, and be the guest of Brigadier-General Cornelius Vanderbilt III for a cruise of several months in Europe and way stations?

What's that? The general overlooked you in making out his list of guests? Well, never mind; you can accompany the Vanderbilt party, just the same.

You won't have to spend anything, either, except a certain amount of eyesight in picking out the various features of the Atlantic II, as pictured on this page.

While you are doing this, the vessel itself will be far from your line of vision. But you can track her shimmering, costly trail across any map of the Atlantic Ocean, and fancy yourself ensconced in one of her palatial cabins.

Actually, the only guests who went aboard were Captain James F. Carter, U. S. N., retired; Henry Worthington Bull, a member of Harriman & Co., and James F. Sparkman, of G. H. Putnam's book-publishing firm. They got on the yacht at City Island at half-past one on the morning of April 14. The original plan had been to hoist anchor the previous day. Your calendar will tell you that that was FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH.

That was where Mrs. Vanderbilt began to take an interest in the schedule. She protested, lightly but firmly, that such a sailing date would never do. So General Vanderbilt and his guests laughingly consented to the delay.

The project of a sea trip had come up at a dinner party which the Vanderbilts gave some weeks before all this. There was not much time left to complete preparations. The yacht was hastily refitted by the Todd Shipyards Corporation at its Tebo plant, and it was necessary for workmen to stay aboard all night in order that Captain Peterson's command to sail might be promptly obeyed.

The guests had the satisfaction of knowing they were on one of the finest small ships afloat, for the Atlantic II was built by Wilson Marshall, during whose ownership she won the Kaiser's Cup in the transatlantic race of 1905. Her next owners were Nicholas P. and J. C. Brady, who, in the Autumn of 1922, sold her to General Vanderbilt.

Now just imagine that the Messrs. Sparkman and Bull left the Vanderbilt party at Hamilton, Bermuda, as they actually did, being obliged to cut short their holiday. Imagine, too, that you are to take their place on the Atlantic II.

What do you see as you stand, expectant and thrilled to the core, on the deck? A quarter of a mile distant the smart craft, her colors flying, awaits your coming. A motor boat puts out from the ship. As she nears the wharf you glimpse handsome Captain Peterson in the bow waiting to help you on board.

You chug out to the Atlantic. As you cross the gangplank to the deck a servant darts forward and takes your baggage. He leaves you no time to inspect the snowy funnel or the coiled rope and intricate machinery, but in modulated tones asks you whether you "wouldn't care to go below, sir?"

In the transit from the deck house down the gangway you note the beauty and good taste of everything, from the glittering door handles to the richly woven carpets. Your heart leaps at the thought of the luxurious cabin which is to be your "home and castle" for several months.

On the right of the passage you have already snapped a mental "close-up" of the owner's workshop, a laboratory and library, asbestos lined, where the General makes electrical experiments. Failing to see him tinkering with his intricate toys, you peer beyond, into the lounge, a gloriously masculine "den," which also serves as the General's stateroom.

Across the passage, at the left, your eye has taken in, also, the perfectly appointed chart room, with behind it Mrs. Vanderbilt's stateroom, which a king and queen might occupy—and enjoy it! But before you have time for a detailed scrutiny, you find yourself on the threshold of your own cabin—one of seven similar ones, you have been told. And, blessings on the Vanderbilt hospitality!

There are no less than five baths on the yacht!

Looking out into the passage, you discover still another bit of ingenuity in housekeeping at sea. The mast has been covered up and made attractive by means of built-in bookcases. On another side of the mast a gun-rack holds such arms as may be needed on so elaborate a cruise. If a pirate should show up—

The gong summons you to dinner. You make your way past the little swinging table in the space on each side of which the cabins are built, and enter the main saloon. What gorgeously large window seats, you exclaim to yourself. What a superlative dinner table! And what a host, you add, as General Vanderbilt bows to you, and instantly makes you feel quite at home.

The saloon itself isn't, perhaps, just what you expected, but it has character and charm of a unique sort. You wonder whose idea it was to supply the decorative note with linen hangings. Then you notice that the material has been cunningly relieved with brightly colored flowers. The effect, you decide, is enchanting.

As you sip your after-dinner coffee you realize, with a sigh of ecstatic comfort, that the city's routine is far away. You try to make yourself understand your good fortune—that you will stop off at the Azores, at Mediterranean ports, before you go to England for regatta week at Cowes—and at last, regretfully, sail for Newport—several blissful months from now.

It seems too agreeable to be real. But it isn't—if you can afford the luxury of a map, which costs a few cents, and that greater luxury which no money can buy—imagination!

MOVE TO CLEAR JACKSON-TP

Anti-Tubercular Drive Planned at Farm Bureau Meeting

Definite action toward elimination of bovine tuberculosis was taken Thursday evening by farmers of Jackson-tp at the regular Farm Bureau meeting.

Following an explanation of the area test plan by H. J. Ridge, county agent, it was decided to appoint a man in each school district to circulate a petition on which herd owners who are willing to have a test will affix their signatures.

Successful operation of this plan will mean that every herd owner in the township will demand of the state department that tests be made and the township will be in line for a part of the state indemnity fund that becomes available July 1.

Farmers in Allen-co are moving in concerted action to rid the community herds of all bovine tuberculosis, Ridge declared Friday. Herd owners of Bath-tp for some time have had listed approximately 750 head of cattle for testing.

More than 75 persons attended the meeting at Lafayette Thursday evening, Ridge said, to outline plans for the tubercular drive and to listen to a program of entertainment.

SWATTER DRIVING FLY INSANE

Lone Pest in Dr. Sutter's Office Resigned to Fate

A scandal brews, or more properly, buzzes, in the office of Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner.

Among other campaigns for the extension of health in Allen-co, Dr. Sutter has included war against the housefly. Advice to county residents from Dr. Sutter advocates ruthless extermination of both fly and breeding place.

The charge was made Friday, in the presence of witnesses, that the office of the health commissioner harbors a fly, that the fly has been seen buzzing leisurely about the office and that it was observed to snicker at an anti-fly bulletin prepared by Dr. Sutter. The charges were made by Robert Christian, custodian of Memorial hall.

Dr. Sutter denies that the fly is a protege of the county; declares it is so weak that steady scrutiny of the office fly swatter is gradually driving it insane and that its death will be another achievement for science.

Meanwhile the orphan fly continues to take nonishment three times per day from the office ink bottle.

RUSSIA IS SHORT 7 MILLION HORSES

One of Problems Resulting from Great Famine

FARMERS TO USE TRACTORS

Plan of Reconstruction Given Out in Interview

MOSCOW — (United Press) — The reconstruction and improvement of Russia's agricultural system is not as complicated as it might appear," Prof. Albert A. Johnson, a well-known American agriculturalist, declared in an interview with the United Press on the perspective of Russia's agriculture.

In a short interview," he said, "I am of course unable to give an exhaustive picture but I want to emphasize the fact that the present moment is the most opportune for the introduction of new methods. The Russian Government knows that if it waits long, the Russian peasant will be drifting back to the old methods."

There are three favorable factors for the introduction, namely:

First of all, the famine itself. The peasant who underwent terrible sufferings and losses begins to think what measures might prevent a repetition.

Secondly, the government's intention to educate the peasants theoretically and practically.

Thirdly, the great loss of animals. Russia is short of seven million horses alone, besides the large number of oxen and other trucking animals, which to replenish will take many years.

BRING TRACTORS

Owing to the lack of these animals the first natural step is the introduction of tractors on a large scale.

But just as important—if not even more so—is it to increase the number of skilled operators of tractors. For this purpose schools should be established where short four months courses of about three to four months should be given to men and women. The schools must be filled with the most modern machinery.

During the war the peasant has earned many things about the science of warfare. His mind is now open for the "Science of Agriculture." The argument that his education is still too low is entirely wrong. He possesses a natural instinct which enables him to grasp the advantages even much quicker than the theoretically more highly educated man.

"The fact that the Russian peasants live together in villages is of a great advantage to the educational side, because the traveling instructors find the peasants whom they came to instruct right on the spot."

"There is a great similarity between the grain growing part of the U. S. A. and the United States of Russia with regard to the soil, temperature, rainfall depth and texture of the soil, etcetera."

COST HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS

"The U. S. A. spent hundreds of millions of dollars for the development of the system of farming and machinery. This experience can be transplanted into Russia with equal success immediately. Because of the above factors there should be close relationship between the two countries."

"I am glad to see that Russia is already taking advantages of these factors and am convinced will be doing more so in the near future."

"The Russian peasants should not make the same mistakes as the American farmers did by dropping their home industries. Because besides the practical side it has an important educational value for the younger generation."

"If you modernize your farms, don't forget to modernize your homes. The Russian slogan 'Electrification of the industries' and 'Motorization of Agriculture' is apt to bring about general modernization of Russia's life, with equal advantages for workmen, as well as for the peasants."

HAGUE COURT INTERFERES IN WIRELESS NEWS DISPUTE

THE HAGUE — Property rights in news distributed by wireless is a subject now engaging the Dutch courts. One Dutch news agency sued another for intercepting and sending to its newspaper subscribers news sent to the first agency by wireless from a third agency in Berlin, each of the dispatches bearing as a prefix a notice that they were the copyright in Holland of the plaintiff agency which claimed payment at a specified rate for each message thus intercepted and distributed.

The president of the Hague Court has ordered the defendant agency immediately to cease intercepting the wireless messages which the plaintiff claimed as their property, until it has been judicially decided whether such interceptions are illegal or not, and ordering the defendants, in the former event, to pay $10 for each item of news illegally intercepted and distributed.

Ben Turpin As A Romantic Lover!

Fun Enough and Laughs Enough to Make Water Grow in the Sahara Desert

To drive away the blues. Just take yourself by the hand and come see Ben Turpin, the man with the forty-five degree angle in his eyes, as he does his stuff in the new Mack Sennett five-reel comedy feature. You'll laugh till you cry; and you'll cry till you have to laugh again. But your tears will all be from laugh aches. Starting tomorrow at the Lyric, "The Shriek of Araby."

Mary has rosy cheeks now too

Mother says it's good for me because it's bran and all, you see. I'll eat this bowlful, then another, so I will grow as big as mother.

Mapl-Flake is a whole wheat flake with all the bran left in it. Not too much bran—why, you'd never know it's there unless we told you! But enough roughage to "sweep" the digestive tract—a natural regulator such as Mother Nature intended us to take.

No wonder Mary has rosy cheeks. In addition to the bran, she gets a well balanced, appetizing food. This whole wheat flake is rich in life-giving vitamins—it not only stimulates the appetite but furnishes fuel to feed it.

Mapl-Flake is food—far better than medicine. Be a "Mapl-Flaker," forget about "taking bran" as a duty—eat it in Mapl-Flake as a pleasure.

2—LIMA STORES—2

LIMA'S WONDER SALES MAKER ?

PUT this down as a Merchandising Fundamental: Get your neighbors' confidence and their trade will follow. Concentrate on your home-folks. Advertise to your neighbors adequately and persistently and they will do the rest! Create a desire!

Tell your neighbors of your wares and their trade will follow. Concentrate on your home-folks. Advertise to your neighbors in The News. Responsive Lima will do the rest!

Three Determining Reasons Why You Should Concentrate Your Advertising in The Lima News---

Department Stores Prefer The Lima News

When you advertise in The Lima News, Success is yours to command—provided merchandise, service, price and value stand up under competition. When this fundamental is ignored, Failure will follow because you have invited it. This is equally true of the advertising of the great department store or of the merchant who is just beginning to advertise. Neither can ignore it and succeed—the first doesn't—the second shouldn't.

The Lima merchants' neighbors—who are they?

They are the 50,000 people living in Lima right now and the 50,000 other people living hereabouts who come to Lima to buy.

Department Store Display Advertising For April

Lima Department Stores during the month of April 1923, carried in The Lima News 8,650 inches of advertising. Every inch was a salesman, and the advertising in reality didn't cost the merchant a single penny. Advertising properly used is never an expense, but a commission salesman.

If your business is worth advertising—advertise it—if it isn't worth advertising—then it is time to advertise it for sale. Consistency in advertising brings big results in The Lima News.

Lima Merchants Prefer The Lima News

Volume of business is the lifeblood of the department stores. It must appeal to the greatest possible audience. It must make this appeal continuous, and with certainty of results.

For many years Lima's leading merchants have found the advertising columns of The Lima News the quickest, surest and most economical sales force. The score gives abundant proof of this leadership of The Lima News in this field.

Other advertisers should follow these live wire merchants. Their advertising is scientifically placed and proves effective.

CLOTHING MOVIE QUEENS IS SOME JOB

(BY GERTRUDE GULLHAM)
ALTHOUGH her name is never flashed on screen or billboard, Ethel Chaffin is a notable contributor to many beautiful film productions. Whenever feminine audiences grasp admiring "Ah!" for the clothes of any one of a score of film celebrities, it is a tribute to Miss Chaffin. As head costumer for the Paramount west coast studio, she gilds the film and paints the rose. The $100,000 wardrobe which she designs would tempt a saint to kleptomania.

Miss Chaffin's problem is to garish beauty of many types, to emphasize character, cater to many personal whims without violating the artistic ensemble of a cast, maintain a symbolic relationship of dress to drama, and to anticipate fashion trends by at least six months.

Ladies will appreciate the almost superhuman qualities of this quiet, confident, catholic young woman who can design 20 to 30 evening gowns in one day, or 10,000 distinctive garments in four years, and still retain the respect of every star and extra on the lanky lot.

Every creation is made with material, finish and care that would please the most fastidious patron of exclusive fashion shops. "The they may be worn but once."

"We must do this," explains Miss Chaffin, "even to the hilt, and parts that never show on the film, because the effect of clothes, the feel of them, has a tremendous effect upon emotions. Slipshod work might very easily influence the performance of an actress. To appreciate this, observe the influence of clothes upon the ordinary drama of life, on the street, in the home, at social gatherings. Exaggerated of course in the movie world.

"Because films are often made six months before shown, we must be the forerunners of fashion, rather than a mirror of the mode. But more than that, we must also anticipate the vagaries of social opinion."

"For instance, the vamp and the flapper is again being superseded by the sweet, soft type of girl. The movies quickly follow indications of such trend. That means that I must stress the soft, clinging effects in garments in place of the glittering, voluptuous trappings."

"It has proven rather difficult to impress women audiences who seek fashion hints on the screen that we endeavor not alone to show smart things but in addition to have them fit the characters and properties of the particular play."

"Successful motion picture clothes designers must be artists, not dress-makers. I have 125 assistants. I teach them to drape the figure, rather than to sew. And I seldom work from a pattern."

"I drape the material on the fitted forms of our leading women, practically finishing the garment thus, often without a single adjustment."

"Gloria Swanson, for example, seldom has even one fitting. Pola Negri, on the other hand, often requires three or four. Gloria prefers to do dramatic things in lighter clothes, while Pola prefers black. It helps stars to have garments in harmony with their respective temperaments."

"The few shades the screen shows, gives not the slightest idea of the brilliant colors used on the set. If they were to be all gray, black or white, neither actress nor director could work. Color stimulates them emotionally, like music."

MISS ETHEL CHAFFIN, COSTUME DESIGNER TO HER MAJESTY, THE MOVIE QUEEN.

week. This piece was written by George V. Hobart and had a remarkable run at the Thirty Ninth Street Theatre in New York before its release for stock companies.

The numerous incidents in a husband's life and the clever excuses he invents to tell his unsuspecting better-half, form the basis of the story. To avoid masculine complications the author has placed the husbands in this particular instance in perfectly innocent situations, but appearances are against them.

"What's Your Husband Doing?" is one of the most wholesome comedies ever staged and is mounted with three special stage settings. The second act is said to be one of the most artistic and beautiful settings seen in the Faurot stage for some time.

A Correction!

In our advertisement of Sunday, June 10, 1923, we offered an ice cream freezer under an illustration showing a heavy wooden construction with hoops around, a handle and heavy cranking frame.

The BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU calls our attention to the fact that the freezers on sale were not like our illustration, being of galvanized iron when the cut might cause our readers to think they were of wood construction.

WE ARE GLAD TO APOLOGIZE for this error and will refund amount paid by any customer not satisfied with their purchase.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves a low fighting-power in the box. It often means you are minus nerve, power, minus red-cells in your blood. It is serious. It is a minus vital. It is a minus vitality. It is a minus increase of red-blood-cells. You begin to build them.

That's why S.S.S., since 1876, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them.

S.S.S. is sold at all good stores in two sizes. The larger is more economical.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Ole Davis, undertaker, got out a hammer, a hatchet, a chisel and a screw driver.

After much labor he succeeded in opening a heavy box of supplies received.

Then he turned the box over, reports his partner, and found that someone else had already opened the box on the opposite side.

John Keville, now manager of a clear store, recalls an incident that occurred one day when he was employed in a grocery.

He tied up a parcel of sugar for a woman patron, but neglected to break the string connected with a ball. The customer started out of the store and had reached the sidewalk, with the string trailing back to the rear of the store, when John grabbed the ball and saved the rest of it.

Keville says he didn't know how to answer when the woman turned around and asked, "What do you think I am? A kite?"

Henry Kehres, chief of police at Delphos, relates that a large collie dog there adopted a threatening attitude toward an alreadale.

The alreadale didn't invite attack. Instead, it sat back and set up a howl in code that brought to its assistance all other alreadales in that part of Delphos.

Roscoe Thibert, high school physical director, always heard it was unlucky if a black cat crosses one's path at night, but he also had heard that it is good luck if a black cat follows one home.

So he was pleased to see a black cat trailing him down street.

"Nice kitty!"

"Meow!"

"Nice kitty!"

"Meow!"

When he backed up a step, his heel came down on the cat's tail. The feline shrieked and the quiet of the night was ripped from end to end.

Thibert jumped. He stumbled backward and fell over the cat. "There's no luck in black ones," he declared.

"Scat, you cat!"

County surveyor-elect, Ed Smith says the past winter was a lucky one for him.

He bought a snow shovel in the fall, with the best of intentions, but someone borrowed it after the first snowfall and Smith says he hasn't seen it since.

C. L. Conrad, scout executive, was in a restaurant when he heard another man making loud complaint that he had found a button in his soup.

"Sh-h-h!" said the waitress. "Not so loud. If the others hear you they may all want a button in their soup."

Jim Mackenzie tells that his wife asked him to go to the ice chest and make her a sandwich. When he returned to where she was reading, she asked, "Where's the sandwich?"

"Oh!" he said. "I got to thinking about something else and ate it myself."
